Ms. [redacted],

The questions you have outlined below should likely be directed to the Defendant in this case rather than Docusign.

Please clarify the specific information or records you are requesting from Docusign so that we may respond accordingly.

For those alerts, if any:

- What alert was generated
- Whether an email or system notification was sent
- Who received that notification
- When it was sent

(This corresponds to Exhibit A requests for fraud alerts, anomaly data, and related audit records.)

3. Responsibility for Investigation

The subpoena seeks records identifying:

- The role(s) within FAIC responsible for reviewing or investigating anomalous DocuSign activity
- The individual(s) assigned to that function during the relevant period
- Any records reflecting review, escalation, or disposition of such anomalies

(This relates to internal review records and administrative actions requested in Exhibit A.)

4. Training and Enablement

The subpoena also seeks records sufficient to determine:

- Whether FAIC received training materials, courses, or instruction on monitoring DocuSign activity, alerts, or anomalies
- Who attended or completed such training
- The roles or job titles of those individuals

(This is relevant to access, oversight, and administrative configuration requested in Exhibit A.)

5. Integrated Systems / Enterprise Environment

FAIC operates within a personal business-managed environment that integrates DocuSign with internal systems.

Accordingly, the subpoena seeks records reflecting:

- Whether DocuSign alerts or monitoring outputs were routed, logged, or visible within FAIC's enterprise systems
- Whether such alerts were exported, mirrored, or retained outside of the DocuSign interface

(This relates to system-level audit records and monitoring data requested in Exhibit A.)

Legal clarification for non-party production

For avoidance of doubt, Georgia law expressly permits and protects non-party compliance with subpoenas.

Production of responsive records by DocuSign pursuant to this subpoena is authorized under O.C.G.A. § 9-11-45, and compliance in good faith does not subject DocuSign to liability for producing business records, audit logs, or system metadata maintained in the ordinary course.

If any requested category cannot be produced, the subpoena requests a written explanation identifying:

- The specific item or category not produced, and
- Whether the limitation is technical, legal, or policy-based.

If any records cannot be produced

As stated in the subpoena, if any requested category cannot be produced, please provide a written explanation identifying:

- The specific item or category not produced, and
- Whether the limitation is technical, legal, or policy-based.

Thank you for your time, grace and cooperation. Please let me know if any clarification is needed.

Respectfully,

Dear Ezra / Legal Team,

I am writing to clarify the specific records requested in the December 23, 2025 subpoena served on DocuSign in [redacted] v. First Acceptance Insurance Company of Georgia, Inc.

This message is not intended to expand the subpoena. It is intended only to confirm that production reflects what was already requested in Exhibit A and to avoid any misunderstanding about scope.

The subpoena seeks DocuSign-generated or DocuSign-maintained records sufficient to address the following operational matters, all of which are expressly covered in Exhibit A:

1. Post-Execution Review Activity

For envelopes involving Plaintiff, after they were sent or completed and transmitted to FAIC:

- Who accessed or reviewed the envelopes
- When that access or review occurred
- What DocuSign user account, role, or system performed that access

(This corresponds to audit trails, access logs, and post-execution activity already requested in Exhibit A.)

2. Alerts, Notifications, and Anomaly Indicators

The subpoena seeks records showing whether DocuSign generated any alerts or notifications relating to irregular or anomalous activity, including situations where:

- The sender and signer originated from the same IP address
- Login or signing behavior appeared unusual or inconsistent

For any such alerts, the subpoena requests records reflecting:

- The type of alert or flag generated
- Whether an email or system notification was issued
- Who received the notification
- When it was generated or sent

(This corresponds to Exhibit A requests for fraud alerts, anomaly data, and related audit records.)

---

3. Review, Escalation, or Investigation Records

The subpoena seeks records sufficient to identify:

- Whether envelopes were flagged for review or escalation within DocuSign
- Any administrative review status, notes, or disposition fields maintained by DocuSign
- Records reflecting review or escalation activity

(This relates to internal review and administrative records already requested in Exhibit A.)

4. Training and Enablement Records

The subpoena also seeks records sufficient to determine:

- Whether DocuSign provided FAIC with training materials, courses, or documentation related to monitoring activity, alerts, or anomalies
- Which FAIC users, roles, or job titles received or had access to such training

(This information relates to access, oversight, and administrative configuration requested in Exhibit A.)

5. Integrated Systems / Enterprise Environment

Because FAIC operates within an integrated enterprise environment, the subpoena seeks records reflecting:

- Whether DocuSign alerts, audit data, or monitoring outputs were routed to, logged in, or visible within integrated systems
- Whether such information was exported, mirrored, or retained outside the standard DocuSign interface

(This corresponds to system-level audit and monitoring records requested in Exhibit A.)

All of the above categories are directly tied to the subpoena as served and are limited to records in DocuSign's possession, custody, or control as platform custodian.

Please let me know if any portion of this clarification requires further narrowing to facilitate production, and advise as to the anticipated timeline for compliance.

Thank you again for your cooperation and support.
Please let me know that you have recived this message, and a time line for production of said items.

Sincerely,
